

Membership tiers and included rights

HU-P03 · v6.5 · 12.10.2026

1 How this catalogue applies

1.1. Fuchs Treuhand AG, UID CHE-107.253.643, Morgartenstrasse 3, 6003 Luzern, Switzerland, provides Homeunity membership under the Membership Terms (HU-P02). This Catalogue identifies the tier structure. The accepted individual Order and Rights Schedule specify the services and price supplied to a particular Member. A tier threshold is a quantity of HRPT required for qualification, not a price in USD or another currency.

1.2. The Order must distinguish base rights continuing for the indefinite membership from additional privileges that require a qualifying allocation. It identifies included practical functions, availability, response and delivery commitments, usage limits where any are agreed, and separately paid services. A feature described as future is not counted as already delivered.

2 Tier thresholds

Tier	Minimum eligible HRPT allocation	HAFS pool eligibility
Starter	150	No eligibility from this quantity
Member	1,500	Separate HAFS agreement and conditions required
Pro	15,000	Separate HAFS agreement and conditions required
Elite	150,000	Separate HAFS agreement and conditions required

2.1. Only actual eligible allocated HRPT attributed to the Member counts. A promised future credit, displayed monetary valuation or claim for token replenishment is not an actual allocation. Higher balances do not automatically give additional contractual rights beyond the accepted Order.

3 Services for the selected tier

3.1. The service description for Starter concerns essential member offers and travel-assistance tools; Member may include price monitoring and personal recommendations; Pro may include expanded travel tools; Elite may include priority concierge handling. Each such function is included only to the extent expressly specified in the accepted Rights Schedule, with its actual scope and delivery date.

3.2. There is no universal number of requests, travellers or travel days under this Catalogue. Priority service must identify the practical priority provided; it is not a guarantee that a particular booking or asset opportunity will be available. AI-assisted information, where included, requires checking before relying on a price, visa condition, booking or travel decision.

3.3. If a substantive promised function is unavailable at its agreed date, the Member may require proper performance and invoke HU-P05. A general reference to the Catalogue does not permit the Company to charge for unspecified or empty rights.

4 Price and linked HRPT

4.1. The one-time fee is quoted individually and accepted before payment. The Order states the currency, applicable taxes and amount. The HRPT benefit is included without a separate charge, but its quantity and terms are expressly agreed under HU-P04. A tier threshold does not prescribe that quantity, a monetary exchange rate or an entitlement to repurchase.

4.2. Accommodation, transport and other third-party purchases are separately priced unless expressly included. Discounts depend on the particular comparable offer; a maximum or illustrative saving is not a saving guaranteed on every purchase.

5 Maintaining and changing qualification

5.1. An allocation's confirmed term and actual balance determine the conditional tier privileges specified in the Order. The Order explains measurement, expiry and the consequences of withdrawal, transfer or collateral realisation. The loss of a conditional privilege does not introduce a recurring base fee or erase base membership rights and accrued claims.

5.2. An upgrade requires an agreed amendment recording the prior and new tiers, qualification, extra rights, effective date and actual additional price or credit. There is no automatic upgrade price calculated from a historic HRPT exchange rate. An allocation extension or a higher balance does not automatically create a new paid Order.

6 Separate programmes and enquiries

6.1. HAFS participation, personal liquidity, HPOT, asset rights and partner commissions require their own applicable agreements. Eligibility for consideration is not a guaranteed allocation, financing approval or investment return. For membership rights and changes, contact support@homeunity.io. Contractual cancellation, nonperformance and permanent loss of core rights are governed by HU-P05.
